Dear Sir/Madam,

I'd like to inform you about our federation FETSA, the European umbrella organisation representing all major independent tank storage operators and national associations. Each year we run our annual general meeting, attracting industry professionals, members and suppliers for a 2 day exhibition, conference and hosted networking programme consisting of an informal dinner, lunches and a gala dinner.

Now in its 5th year, the next event will be held in Gothenburg, Sweden. Hosted by our member, Scandinavian Tank Storage Company, this exclusive conference & exhibition is the only event of its kind to be run directly by tank terminal operators, and for the first time will be jointly organised with StocExpo & Tank Storage Events, part of Easyfairs.

StocExpo is the largest portfolio of tank storage exhibitions & conferences, which take place across Europe, Asia, The Middle East and Africa. This new partnership with us to run the FETSA AGM will undoubtedly benefit the sector by bringing together communities and delivering world class events.

Decision makers, terminal managers and engineers from the tank storage sector will attend this event, and during the two days they will get the opportunity to meet our members in a relaxed business environment. This year we have extended the conference programme from half to a full day, with an additional half day running on Friday morning for attendees invited from FETSA and exhibiting companies. In addition, terminal operators are now given free access to the exhibition, which will benefit the exhibitors by increasing the attendee numbers within the venue.

Should you wish to exhibit or attend the conference as a delegate, I thank you in advance for your interest and look forward to welcoming you to Gothenburg along with our member associations. Please find enclosed the full agenda and booking forms. Closure of the subscriptions is foreseen at the end of January 2018.

With regards,

Marc De Witte

Executive Director, FETSA
